December Dates Announced for the Antiquarius Greenwich Winter Antiques Show

Cos Cob, CT, March 14, 2013— Frank Gaglio (Inc.) is pleased to announce its collaboration with the Greenwich Historical Society in producing the 2013 Greenwich Winter Antiques Show to be held from December 6 to 8, at the Eastern Greenwich Civic Center, Old Greenwich, Connecticut. The Greenwich Winter Antiques Show will be a premiere feature of the Historical Society’s Antiquarius fundraiser, which also includes an annual Holiday House Tour and Holiday Gift Boutique.

The Greenwich Winter Antiques Show will feature fine art, period to mid-century antiques, and exceptional jewelry and will take place in early December, offering the convenience of additional time for collectors and shoppers between the show and other holiday activities. In addition to the show’s exceptional exhibitor roster, plans for a series of special events associated with the show are being planned, including celebrity guest speakers and a designer event (sold-out programs in 2012.) A November patron event and an opening night preview party—for private early shopping as well as consultation with exhibitors—are all in the works.

Comments show manager Frank Gaglio on last year’s show (Antiques and Art Avant Garde Greenwich), “We were pleased with last year’s show in every respect—from the refurbished Civic Center facility to the exceptional presentation the exhibitors made. The Gala was a stellar event patronized by some of the community’s most recognized patrons of the arts, and a significant amount of business was transacted. We intend to make the show even more spectacular this year and look forward to collaborating with the Greenwich Historical Society under the beloved Antiquarius umbrella.”
